
Freedom from your old phone system is closer than you think.

Your antiquated phone system will hold you captive no longer. Introducing VirtualTone, the leading provider of Internet-based telephone system solutions. With VirtualTone, you can break free from old PBX technology that keeps your employees tied to a phone network in your office.

Anywhere you have Internet access, you have VirtualTone – at a significant cost savings over your current PBX system. And your new VirtualTone service is hosted on a private dedicated switch, not a server shared with thousands of other customers like other Internet phone services you've heard about. All you need is an Internet-ready (SIP- or IAX-compatible) phone – which we provide, if needed – and you're ready to go.

With VirtualTone you receive:

- 2 to 200 or more users
- Voice Mail
- Call Forward
- Call Waiting
